Journey of Students

AIM for SEVA
Educating Rural India

Bhupendra Singh Dhurwey

Class 9, Madhya Pradesh

Coming from a humble family of small farmers and labourers in Bilaikhar village, Dindori, Madhya Pradesh, Bhupendra Singh Dhurwey grew up with limited access to quality education. His parents worked tirelessly to support the family and provide him with a better future.

Joining the Bhim Saroj Khanna and Gera Nirula AIM for Seva Chatralayam for Boys, Katni, Madhya Pradesh, in Class 6 marked a turning point in his life. With access to quality education, dedicated guidance and a supportive learning environment, Bhupendra gradually improved his academic performance and confidence.

His hard work paid off when he secured an impressive 86.83% in his Class 8 MP Board examinations, achieving first rank in his school.

Today, Bhupendra dreams of becoming a Doctor, making his parents proud and helping those in need. His journey is a reminder that with the right support, encouragement and opportunities, young minds can overcome limitations and move confidently towards a brighter future.

Gangesh Pratap Saiyam

Class 9, Madhya Pradesh

Hailing from Gwara village in Dindori district, Madhya Pradesh, Gangesh Pratap Saiyam belongs to a humble farming family. With limited educational facilities in his village, access to quality learning opportunities was a challenge, despite his parents' determination to provide him with a better future.

Joining the Smt. Jamunabai Chanchlani AIM for Seva Chatralayam for Boys, Malakhedi, Madhya Pradesh, marked an important turning point in his life. Along with free accommodation and access to quality schooling, the Chatralayam provided him with academic guidance, discipline and an environment that encouraged him to grow with confidence.

With consistent effort and the support of his teachers, Gangesh secured an impressive 72.66% in his Class 8 MP Board examinations, achieving 4th rank in his school.

Now studying in Class 9, he dreams of becoming a Doctor, making his parents proud and serving people in need. His journey is a reminder that when children receive the right education, guidance and opportunities, even the biggest dreams become achievable.

Alumni Stories

From a Beneficiary to a Beacon of Change

Coming from a humble labourer's family in Madhya Pradesh, Rakesh Katiya joined the AIM for Seva Chatralayam in 2006 as a Class 6 student. What began as an opportunity for education became the foundation for a life of purpose and service.

With determination, he went on to earn a B.Sc. in Computer Science, D.El.Ed and an M.A. in Hindi Literature. Today, he serves as a PGT Mathematics Teacher at Swami Dayananda Saraswati Vidyalaya, Padali, Madhya Pradesh.

Having once benefited from AIM for Seva's support, Rakesh now empowers young minds through innovative teaching, while nurturing ethics and traditional values.

For him, teaching is more than a profession—it is a way of giving back and creating opportunities for the next generation. His journey truly reflects the belief that self-growth comes through service to society.

From a Small Village to Serving Maharashtra

Coming from a humble family of daily-wage labourers in Maharashtra, Rameshwar Sanjay Burkul joined the AIM for Seva Chatralayam, Pangari, in 2014 as a Class VII student. Over the next six years, the Chatralayams at Pangari and Shivane, Maharashtra became instrumental in shaping his education, character and values.

After completing Class XII, he pursued B.A. in Economics from Dr. Babasaheb Ambedkar Marathwada University. In 2025, he achieved a significant milestone by joining the Maharashtra Police as a Police Constable.

Beyond education, Rameshwar treasures the values instilled at the Chatralayam—honesty, respect, equality, discipline and dignity. Today, while serving the state, he continues to prepare for the MPSC examinations, aspiring to take on greater responsibilities in public service. His journey reflects how education builds opportunities, while strong values shape individuals who give back to society.
